DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on April 21, 2008 has been entered.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on April 21, 2008 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-25 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-12 and 14-22 of copending Application No. 10/942,321. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they appear to comprise overlapping subject matter. The primary difference between this and said co-pending is the limitation in the instant application that the host material is modified by a first process so that the thermal conductivity of the host material is increased. Said host material being a polymer. The co-pending application comprises polymers, as evidenced by claims 19, as well as the specification. It is deemed that the host materials of said co-pending broadly include those that have been modified, such as the increase thermal conductivity and any other suitable property or by selecting a polymer that has a high degree of crystallinity. Therefore, it is deemed the instant claims, as written, cannot be infringed without literally infringing upon the claims of the co-pending application(s) as cited in the obviousness-type double patenting rejection(s).

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

4. Claims 1-25 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 15 and 26 of copending Application No. 10/803,538. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they appear to comprise overlapping subject matter. The primary difference between this and said co-pending is the limitation in the instant application that the host material is modified by a first process so that the thermal conductivity of the host material is increased. Said host material being a polymer. The co-pending application comprises polymers, as evidenced by claims 1, 8-9, 11-13, 15 and 26 as well as the specification. It is deemed that the host materials of said co-pending, as written, broadly include those that have been modified, such as the increase thermal conductivity and any other suitable property, or selecting a polymer that has a high degree of crystallinity. Therefore, it is deemed the instant claims, as written, cannot be infringed without literally infringing upon the claims of the co-pending application(s) as cited in the obviousness-type double patenting rejection(s).
